“Trends and Disruptions in the Chemical Industry”

Featuring

Paul Bjacek

Thought Leadership Principal Director, Accenture

This presentation will cover the megatrends driving the chemical industry and its customer industries. These trends explain the motives for chemical company actions, including consolidation, acquisitions and new R&D directions. The presentation will also explore disruptions associated with those trends, such as those caused by the proliferation of low cost natural gas in North America, namely – petrochemical & plastics capacity construction and supply chain disruptions.
